

OYSTER INFECTION DISTURBS DEALERS

Condemnation Cause Concern, and Market Is Affected to a Considerable Extent.

Washington oyster dealers are greatly perturbed over the recent condemnations of oysters by inspectors of the Bureau of Chemistry, Department of Agriculture, because of the presence of germs said to be noxious. The condemnations have affected the local oyster market to a considerable extent.

It is thought that the oysters became infected with the noxious germs while on the river beds, and not from sewage. The question has arisen as to whether the supposed contamination could have resulted from the sewage disposal of the District. There is a decided difference of opinion on this question. District Health Officer Woodward was questioned last night on the subject, but he refused to venture an opinion.

"The best way to settle the matter," said Dr. Woodward, "is to investigate conditions along the Potomac and to analyze the water and oysters. It is a simple proposition and would solve the problem immediately."

Anxious for Probe.
Oystermen are convinced that the oysters were infected while in the water and not after being dredged. The oysters which were condemned on Monday were brought direct to the city from the beds near Colonial Beach, Va. Oystermen of Virginia and Maryland are impatient to have an investigation of the matter so that the cause of infection may be removed.

Officials of the Bureau of Chemistry will commence a general investigation of the oyster beds of the Potomac within a few days. Chemists will be sent to the various dredging points, especially those near Colonial Beach and the mouth of Wisconsin Creek, for the purpose of making tests.

MRS. GRACE HELD IN ATLANTA CASE

Wounded Husband in More Serious
Condition—Conflicting Rumors
Regarding the Shooting.

Atlanta, Ga., March 7.—Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace, who was arrested two days ago on the charge of shooting her husband, and later released on $5,000 bail, was rearrested late today, and is tonight in the Fulton County jail, where it is understood, she will be held until her first hearing. Conflicting rumors concerning the condition of her husband, Eugene H. Grace, a builder and contractor, and fifteen years her junior, are afloat, but it is believed that his condition is more serious to-night than at any time since the shooting, and that this is the chief reason for the rearrest of his wife.

Grace, it is understood, has made the sensational declaration that he discovered his wounds when he awoke from a sleep, and that he was shot while asleep, and under the influence of an opiate. Mrs. Grace stoutly maintains that she is innocent of the charge against her, and in this she is supported by the husband's mother.

It is said tonight that Grace has recently spent a great deal of his wife's money, and that he had struck her at times when she refused to give him more. This statement is difficult to reconcile with the fact that the Grace's are a well known family, and reputed to have considerable money.

Philadelphia, March 7.—If my daughter shot her husband, she did it in self-defense," was the statement made today by Mrs. Martha E. Ulrich, mother of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace, formerly of this city, who is accused of having shot her husband, Eugene H. Grace, of Atlanta, Ga.

"My daughter and her husband," said Mrs. Ulrich, "seemed to live happily together, except when the question of money arose. They quarreled frequently. I understand because of Gene's hatred of work."

"He has always posed as one of those Southern gentlemen and took great delight in boasting of Southern civility. But he seldom gave an exhibition of it. Recently, last August, on his eighteenth birthday, he asked my daughter for a gift of $5,000, and when she refused it he flew into a fit of rage. After marriage my daughter refused to work; in fact, he seemed perfectly willing that his wife should pay all the bills, while he lived his life away."

"Money is the root of all evil," said the mother, "and I would not be surprised to learn that it was responsible for the shooting. But I feel sure that my daughter would not do things of which she is charged."

Missouri Society to Meet.
The Missouri Society of the District will hold its annual meeting and banquet at the Arlington Hotel tomorrow evening. Addresses will be made by Speaker Charles C. Brown, Representative Richard D. Harbo, and former Senator John P. Henderson. Representative James T. Ward will preside. A committee composed of Mr. C. C. Brown, W. C. Egan, J. C. Harbo, and William Riding is in charge of arrangements.

How to Get Rid of Catarrh
A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way and it Costs Nothing to Try.

Those who suffer from catarrh know its miseries. There is no need of this suffering. You can get rid of it by simple, safe, inexpensive, home treatment discovered by Dr. Bissinger, who, for over thirty years, has been treating catarrh successfully.

His treatment is unlike any other. It is not a spray, douche, saline, cream, or incense, but is a more direct and thorough treatment than any of these. It cleans out the head, nose, throat, and lungs so that you can again breathe freely and sleep without that stopped-up feeling that all catarrh sufferers have. It heals the diseased mucous membranes and arrests the foul discharge, so that you will not be constantly blowing your nose and sniffing, and at the same time it does not poison the system and ruin the stomach, as internal medicines do.

If you want to test this treatment without cost, send your address to Dr. J. W. Bissinger, 201 Walton street, Atlanta, Ga., and he will send you by return mail enough of the medicine to satisfy you that it is all he claims for it as a remedy for catarrh, colds, hay fever, bronchitis, coughs, and all catarrhal complications. He will also send you free an illustrated booklet. Write him immediately.

PRESIDENT AFTER HARVESTER TRUST

Acting on a peremptory order from the President, Attorney General Wickham yesterday began active preparations for a prosecution, under the Sherman law, of the harvester trust, which Mr. Taft's managers accuse of financing the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt.

This announcement, which followed within twenty-four hours the administration's first official knowledge that George W. Perkins, of the harvester trust, had been cooperating with Roosevelt, indicates plainly the President's determination to fight, and the kind of a fight he intends to make.

Although Mr. Wickham, as long ago as last September, notified Mr. Taft of his readiness to move against the harvester trust, the President did not appear willing that he should do so on the evidence then on hand. Instead of ordering Wickham to proceed, Mr. Taft sent for Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, and instructed him to prepare a special report on the trust.

Before Mr. Smith got this work fairly under way he was taken away from it to make a similar report on the steel trust. Meanwhile, the prosecution languished for want of an order from Mr. Taft to awake it to life.

At the Department of Justice it is believed Mr. Perkins stands for more than the harvester trust. It is asserted that Perkins, despite his declaration of retirement, is still hand in glove with the Morgan interests, and that his holdings in many great industrial and financial corporations give him vast authority and influence and consequent power.

If suit can be instituted speedily it will be possible to call Perkins to the stand and to question him as to whether he is a director of the harvester company, has contributed anything to the Roosevelt fund, if the case cannot be brought to trial before June, it is believed that the effect of the prosecution will be more the less disastrous to the trust, to Perkins through the trust, and to Roosevelt through Perkins.

Senator Dixon said yesterday that in a few days he would answer fully the charge that Roosevelt is receiving money from the harvester trust. Senator Dixon has already charged that the harvester trust supplied to the Taft headquarters, in Chicago, the money they required in the summer of 1908, and that no bill for the use of these rooms was ever rendered.

WILL BEGIN PROBE OF WOOLEN TRUST

An inquiry into the operations of the American Woollen Company, commonly known as the woolen trust, will be recommended by the House Rules Committee as a result of the disclosures during the past week in connection with the strike at Lawrence, Mass.

The inquiry to be proposed will bear on the organization of the American Woollen Company, its capitalization, and the labor conditions in the various factories that comprise the concern.

The inquiry will be based on two resolutions providing for an investigation into the causes of the Lawrence strike, one presented by Representative Wilson, of Pennsylvania, and the other by Representative Berger, of Wisconsin, the Socialist member.

A substitute resolution proposing that the inquiry into the factory end of the woolen industry, and the corporate management of the American Woollen Company will be offered.

The public hearings on the Lawrence strike came to an end yesterday. Representatives of the American Woollen Company gave testimony. Before they were heard, Rev. Clark Carter was put on the stand. Mr. Carter is a missionary of Lawrence, whose salary is paid by the mill owners. Mr. Carter expressed the opinion that little harm came from the employment of children in the mills. He said that it was better for them to be occupied than to be "running the streets."

FEAR OF ANOTHER BOXER UPRISING

Peking, March 7.—As a result of a conference held this afternoon, the foreign ministers tonight dispatched a sharp protest to President-elect Yuan Shih Kai against the presence of Chinese troops within the seven-mile limit of the foreign concessions at Tientsin. This action was regarded as imperative if the foreigners and their interests are to be protected from the mutinous troops.

No far anti-Soviet feeling has been manifested, but the ministers realize that the first attack on a foreigner would start a wave of hostile feeling that would likely result in another Boxer uprising. The foreign ministers look to Japan for protection in the event of a crisis, as that country could easily rush thousands of troops to the Liaotung peninsula and keep war ships ready to transport the forces to Ching Wang Tao. At present there are only 5,000 foreign troops in Peking and about the same number in Tientsin.

The ministers are looking Northern China without interference. The rapids of the rebels have reached such proportions that there is no force in China adequate to meet out punishment. Dispatches

1ST ANNIVERSARY

LOWER COST OF LIVING

For one year, now, we have illuminated the way that leads to a lower cost of living. Our promises have been kept. Our customers are enjoying lower prices than they had been able to obtain before—and obtaining at the same time groceries of the highest quality. Not only have we forced prices down in our own stores, but we have forced down prices all over town by our striking example.

This is Anniversary Week at the League of Consumers' Friends—and we are going to celebrate—but celebrate in a logical way—by offering our customers and the general grocery buying public some remarkable price cuts in a
